MEMORANDUM FOR : Project Director of Materiel
SUBJECT : Loss of Supply Personnel at Detachment A

1. I have discussed this subject with the Project Director. While we both agree any further release of supply personnel from Detachment A could become critical, we do not think the present situation can create a hazard to the future materiel requirements including the phasing out of Detachment A this late summer or early fall.

2. It is only supposition that [REDACTED] will clear the project as he has informally stated. If, however, he does put in for retirement, we can if necessary withhold his action until either a suitable replacement is located to take over accountability for property, or hold him until the phase-out of Detachment A is completed logistics-wise. Additionally, if it is [REDACTED] intent to take a civilian job with the Agency, he can certainly be talked into remaining on duty until A is terminated after which he can be offered a job if such is available with the Agency.

4. If any additional requests come in from [REDACTED] to reduce his supply personnel you certainly will be brought in on any pertinent discussions and additionally [REDACTED] will be cautioned when he takes over Detachment A to be careful in his evaluation of supply personnel requirements to the effect that the closing out operation will be much heavier than is being experienced under the present tempo of operations.
